Information Session on the United Nations Great Lakes Regional Strategic Framework
The border areas between Burundi, the Democratic Republic of Congo (DRC), Rwanda, Tanzania and Uganda remain the main theatre for instability in the region (activities of illegal armed groups, electoral crises...). Such instability has resulted in tensions within and between communities, human rights violations and abuses, new and continuing cross-border movements of displaced persons and challenges to cross-border trade.

The causes and consequences of the challenges facing the Great Lakes region are regional in nature and thus need to be addressed in a comprehensive manner by ensuring a concerted and coordinated approach across state boundaries.

In 2013 Governments of the region signed the Peace, Security and Cooperation Framework for the DRC and the region. Through the PSC Framework, 13 Governments of the region committed to the promotion of stability and peace in eastern DRC and the region by addressing the root causes of conflict.

Background and linkages between the PSCF and the UN GLRSF
The Great Lakes Regional Strategic Framework

• The PSC Framework was only the beginning of a “comprehensive approach that will require sustained engagement,” in the words of former Secretary-General Ban Ki-moon.

• ‘While the causes of crisis are deeply interlinked, the UN’s response remains fragmented. The interconnected nature of today’s crises requires us to connect our own efforts for peace and security, sustainable development and human rights, not just in words, but in practice’ Secretary-General António Guterres said.

• This is why the UN undertook a joint regional conflict and socio economic analysis concluding that initial focus for cross border and regional programming must be on the zone of instability in the eastern DRC border region.

• The UN GLRSF was then officially launched on 21 March 2016 by the UN Secretary-General during the UN Security Council Open Debate on the maintenance of International Peace and Security: Prevention and Resolution of conflicts in the Great Lakes Region.

• The regional cross-border political advocacy efforts and development efforts go hand in hand. This in line with the idea that there is no peace without development, there is no development without peace and there is neither lasting peace nor sustainable development without respect of human rights and the rule of law.
Multi-agency, coherent, regional and cross border coordination mechanism to sustain peace and security through a multi-sectoral approach across 5 countries: BURUNDI, DRC, RWANDA, TANZANIA, UGANDA

- Validated by UN, Regional Organisations incl. ICGLR
- Security Council Endorsed
- A Multi-donor trust fund opened and implementation
- Security Council (7923) recall the importance of the GLRSF
The UN GLRSF encapsulates a development approach to the peace and security issues in the region - it aligns the development efforts of the UN to the Office of the Special Envoy of the Secretary-General for the Great Lakes region Roadmap for the implementation of the Peace, Security and Cooperation Framework for the DRC and the region and is co-led by UN Special Envoy M. Said Djinnit and Chair of the R-UNDG Africa M. Abdoulaye Mar Dieye.

The UN GLRSF focuses on cross border and regional action complementing work under way at national level.

Guiding principles include conflict sensitivity, gender, assistance to implementation of ICGLR protocols.
Humanitarian - Development nexus

• The UN GLRSF addresses both development and humanitarian challenges in the region offering a critical contribution to the New Way of Working in the region.

• Each of six Pillars provide a complementary approach to ensure a comprehensive response to both humanitarian and development issues.

• The GLR Cross Border Multi-Partner Trust Fund focuses on both areas aligning funding streams against regional collective outcomes.

1 SUSTAINABLE LAND AND NATURAL RESOURCES MANAGEMENT

9,132,000 USD
Facts and figures

- The thirteen signatories of the Peace, Security and Cooperation Framework (PSCF) have a population of close to 370 million people and an aggregate GDP of USD 1.1 trillion, making it an attractive, dynamic and growing market for investors.

- In the DRC alone, 44 percent of children suffer from chronic malnutrition, or stunting. Some 5.9 million people are food insecure.

There are seven key drivers of economic growth across the region that continue to make the region attractive to investors:

- Tremendous natural resource reserves,
- An abundance of arable land, water and growing food demand,
- A youthful, fast growing, urbanizing, increasingly educated and middle class population,
- Expanding export markets, trading partners and development assistance partners,
- An improving governance and business environment,
- Increasing focus on infrastructure development, and
- Globally leading returns on investment.
OBJECTIVES: 1. Increased trade among border communities
2. Improved food and nutrition security in border communities

REGIONAL INITIATIVES:

I. Support to regional organizations on systems and processes to address trade and non-trade barriers and promote economic integration amongst countries in the Great Lakes Region

II. Promote cross border private sector initiatives and access to investments

III. Promote border communities’ access to agricultural technology and provide capacity support for increased agricultural productivity and output, and build regional resilience to climate-related shocks
ECONOMIC INTEGRATION, CROSS-BORDER TRADE, FOOD AND NUTRITION SECURITY

9,600,000 USD
In the five core countries of the GLRSF, more than 5 Million people are refugees, asylum-seekers, internally displaced persons (IDPs), returnees (refugees and IDPs), stateless persons, and others of concern to UNHCR.

In the Great Lakes Region over 1.3 Million people are refugees.

In the Democratic Republic of Congo alone, UNHCR has registered a total of 3.3 Million people in the same situation including more than 2 Million IDPs.

UNHCR– 2016

18,550,000 USD
Facts and figures

- There are approximately 40 rape cases occurring daily in Eastern Congo and most of the cases are committed by armed men.

- Despite some significant areas of progress, there are areas of limited success and new threats to women’s security such as the high levels of sexual and gender based violence, violent extremism, the low visibility and representation of women in formal peace processes, and the inadequate resources allocated to women’s recovery and reintegration needs, which undermine women’s security, empowerment and gender equality, and consequently sustainable peace and development.

UNON - UN WOMEN

5 GENDER AND SEXUAL AND GENDER-BASED VIOLENCE

8,796,631 USD
Facts and figures

- Rising political tensions and forthcoming elections across the Great Lakes Region (GLR) risk igniting inter-communitarian violence and further unravelling peace, security and development gains made.

- Criminal and armed militia gangs continue to exploit state vulnerability, and to take advantage of widespread impunity to perpetuate human rights violations, including sexual violence against women and children. Indeed, the eastern DRC border area with Uganda, Rwanda, Burundi and Tanzania represents the most significant threats to the GLR and the stability of surrounding countries.

- By the end of 2016, 1.9 million people had been internally displaced by the conflict in DRC alone, and almost 350,000 people required urgent humanitarian assistance.

Fundraising mechanism

Two fundraising procedures for the GLRSF:

A) Preliminarily developed projects

✓ Pillars (leading and supporting agencies) develop one or several projects in close collaboration with UNCTs and RCOs.

✓ The project is validated by the GLRSF Secretariat.

✓ Governments, state and private sector entities, including multilateral, INGOs and NGOs, and individuals can contribute to the fund. They can be represented in the Steering Committee on a rotational basis and participate in providing strategic guidance to the Fund, and promoting partnerships and overall monitoring of the Fund's portfolio.

B) Specific projects that require development

✓ After the project is validated by the Secretariat, funded by the donor, the funding goes through the MPTF and the project is implemented.

✓ While unearmarked contributions are preferred, contributors may earmark their contributions to one or more of the Fund pillars.
